Detailed Action

Drawings

Color photographs and color drawings are acceptable only for examination purposes unless a petition filed under 37 CFR 1.84(a)(2) is granted permitting their use as acceptable drawings. In the event that applicant wishes to use the drawings currently on file as acceptable drawings, a petition must be filed for acceptance of the color photographs or color drawings as acceptable drawings. Any such petition must be accompanied by the appropriate fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(h), three sets of color drawings or color photographs, as appropriate.

Color photographs will be accepted if the conditions for accepting color drawings have been satisfied.

Duplicate Claims

Applicant is advised that should claims 4 and 5 be found allowable, claims 11 and 12 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejection-Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Art Unit: 1661

Claims 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 13, 14 and 16 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Plant Patent No. 12,536. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because U.S. Plant Patent 12, 536 is claiming a plant according to pending claims 4 and 11.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

The disclosed invention is inoperative and therefore lacks utility. Claims 5 and 12 recite a plant which has BFP-100 or a derivative in its pedigree. But the cited method says to cross Lobelia erinus with Lobelia valida and BFP-100 is neither. So it is impossible to produce a plant as claimed.

Claim Rejections- 35 U.S.C. 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Specifically:

Claim 1 and claim 11 are indefinite and confusing in the use of "regenerating" because one does not normally use "regeneration" to describe normal seed germination and growth, which is apparently what Applicant intends.

Claims 5 and 12 are indefinite for the reasons discussed in the 35 U.S.C. 101 rejection above.

Art Unit: 1661

Written Description

Claims 4-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

In analyzing whether the written description requirement is met for genus claims, it is determined whether a representative number of species have been described. In this case, the one disclosed embodiment is not representative of the enormous number of products claimed. Lobelias can vary widely in flower morphology, flower color, leaf morphology, pest resistance and many other characteristics. Since these traits vary independently, the claims encompass millions of plants having unique combinations of phenotypic characteristics. The specification only provides a complete description of 'BFP-100'. Therefore, Applicants are not in possession of the claimed genus.

Enablement

Claims 5-10 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claims 5 and 12 are inoperative for the reasons discussed in the rejection under 101 above. Therefore, the skilled artisan would not know how to make the claimed plants using the guidance in the specification. Claims 6-10 are also inoperative and not enabled to the extent that they depend on claim 5.

Furthermore, the specification does not teach a reproducible method of making BFP-100 because, due to the random nature of gene segregation during sexual reproduction, the odds against reproducing BFP-100 from the disclosed starting materials are astronomical.

The invention employs novel plants, seeds and plant parts. Since the plants and seeds are essential to the claimed invention they must be obtainable by a repeatable method set forth in the specification or otherwise be readily available to the public. If they are not so obtainable or available, the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, regarding "how to make" the invention may be satisfied by deposit of BFP-100. If the deposit is made under the terms of the Budapest Treaty, then an affidavit or declaration by Applicants, or a statement by an attorney of record over his or her signature and registration number, stating that the specific plant line has been deposited under the Budapest Treaty and that it will be irrevocably and without restriction released to the public upon the issuance of a patent, would satisfy the deposit requirement made therein.

Art Unit: 1661

If the deposit has not been made under the Budapest treaty, then in order to certify that the deposit meets the criteria set forth in 37 CFR 1.801-1.809, applicants may provide assurance or compliance by an affidavit or declaration, or by a statement by an attorney of record over his or her signature and registration number, showing that:

1. during the pendency of this application , access to the invention will be afforded to the Commissioner upon request;
2. all restrictions upon availability to the public will be irrevocably removed upon granting of the patent;
3. the deposit will be maintained in a public repository for a period of 30 years or 5 years after the last request or for the effective life of the patent, whichever is longer; and
4. the deposit will be replaced if it should ever become inviable.

Summary

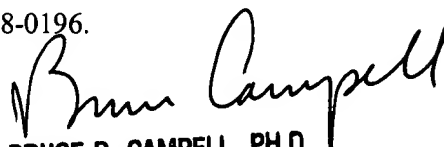

All claims are free of the prior art.
